

EXPLORATORY DATA ANALYSIS AND PREDICTIVE ANALYSIS: 2020 DELHI LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS (GREATER KAILASH)

26/08/2019

ANIKET. N. GAIKWAD

INTRODUCTION

The report aims to analyze political data from different elections held in Delhi in past few years and predict the results of the GREATER KAILASH constituency in the upcoming DELHI LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS in 2020.

ABOUT DELHI:

Delhi is a capital territory consisting of a mixed population of voters from different castes and religions which makes it difficult for the government to execute its development plans and maintain peaceful environment. Delhi is divided into 70 Legislative constituencies and 11 Parliamentary constituencies.

The report consists of detailed analysis of various legislative as well as parliamentary elections in the past 11 years. It consists of:

- 2008 VIDHAN SABHA ELECTIONS
- 2013 VIDHAN SABHA ELECTIONS
- 2014 LOK SABHA ELECTIONS
- 2015 VIDHAN SABHA ELECTIONS

The analysis includes analyzing and finding various trends such as strong polling booths for a particular party, vote share of different parties, details about the candidates contesting the election and univariate as well as bivariate analysis of data which may affect the result at Greater Kailash in the upcoming Delhi legislative assembly elections in 2020.

DATA SOURCE AND COLLECTION

DATA ANALYSIS

DELHI LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS (2008)

(GREATER KAILASH)

PRE-ELECTION SITUATION (2003-2008)

- The 2003 elections for the Delhi Vidhan Sabha formed its 7th Assembly. After this election, Sheila Dikshit of the INC continued to be the Chief Minister of Delhi.
- 70 MLAs were elected, representing 70 Assembly constituencies. Sheila Dikshit won from the Gole Market constituency.
- Greater Kailash was not formed yet (Eventually formed in 2008). The voters belonging to Greater Kailash, were a part of South Delhi.

VOTE PERCENTAGE OF DIFFERENT PARTIES IN GREATER KAILASH CONSTITUENCY (2008)

- Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) won securing 53% of the total vote share.
- Indian National Congress (INC) secured second position with 39% of the total votes.
- BJP replaced INC to take over Greater Kailash after 10 years.

NO. OF VOTES WON BY DIFFERENT PARTIES AT GREATER KAILASH (2008)

- Greater Kailash had 79,703 registered voters.
- BJP secured 42,197 votes and won.
- INC followed with 30,979 votes.

OUTCOME OF THE ANALYSIS

- ✚ The 2008 election resulted into power switch where the defending party, Indian National Congress (INC) was defeated by Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) by 11,218 votes.

- ONE OF THE PROBABLE REASON FOR THE DEFEAT:
- 2008 Serial blasts which took place in GK - 1, M-Block market.

IMAGE FROM THE SERIAL BLAST IN 2008

- BJP accused INC for failing to provide security and maintaining peaceful environment in the area.
- The accusation mentioned above caused BJP to take advantage and secure Greater Kailash.

DELHI LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS (2013)

(GREATER KAILASH)

PRE-ELECTION SITUATION (2009-2013)

BJP were in-charge of the Greater Kailash and implemented some public projects such as progressing the metro station construction work and improving the bus connectivity etc.

CASE STUDY: 2011 ANTI-CORRUPTION MOVEMENT

The Indian anti-corruption movement, commencing in 2011, was a series of demonstrations and protests across India intended to establish strong legislation and enforcement against perceived endemic political corruption. The movement was named among the "Top 10 News Stories of 2011" by Time magazine.

The movement gained momentum from 5 April 2011, when anti-corruption activist Anna Hazare began a hunger strike at the Jantar Mantar in New Delhi. The chief legislative aim of the movement was to alleviate corruption in the Indian government through introduction of the Jan Lok pal Bill. Another aim, spearheaded by Ramdev, was the repatriation of black money from Swiss and other foreign banks.

Grievances of mass protesters focussed on legal and political issues, including political corruption, kleptocracy, and other forms of corruption. The movement was primarily one of non-violent civil resistance, featuring demonstrations, marches, acts of civil disobedience, hunger strikes, and rallies, as well as the use of social media to organise, communicate, and raise awareness. The protests were non-partisan and most protesters were hostile to attempts made by political parties to use them to strengthen their own political agendas.

Hazare declared that the protest movement would recommence and a mark of protest he sat on hunger strike on 25 March 2012 for one day. A month later, Hazare sat a token one-day fast focussed on remembrance of whistle-blowers such as Narendra Kumar and Satyendra Dubey who had died as a result of their support for the anti-corruption cause. On 3 June, Hazare undertook another one-day fast at Jantar Mantar, where he was joined by Ramdev, a yoga guru.

FASTING AT JANTAR MANTAR

Jantar Mantar was the scene of an "indefinite" fast that began on 25 July and involved various members of Team Anna, although Hazare was not involved until four days later. The focus on this occasion was a protest against the government's refusal of an inquiry against the prime minister and 14 cabinet ministers, whom they had accused of corruption. The fast ended on 3 August. Three days later, Hazare announced that since the government seemed to be unready to enact the Jan Lokpal Bill, he and his fellow activists had decided to end their fast, to discontinue talks with the government and to cease any protests under the Team Anna name.

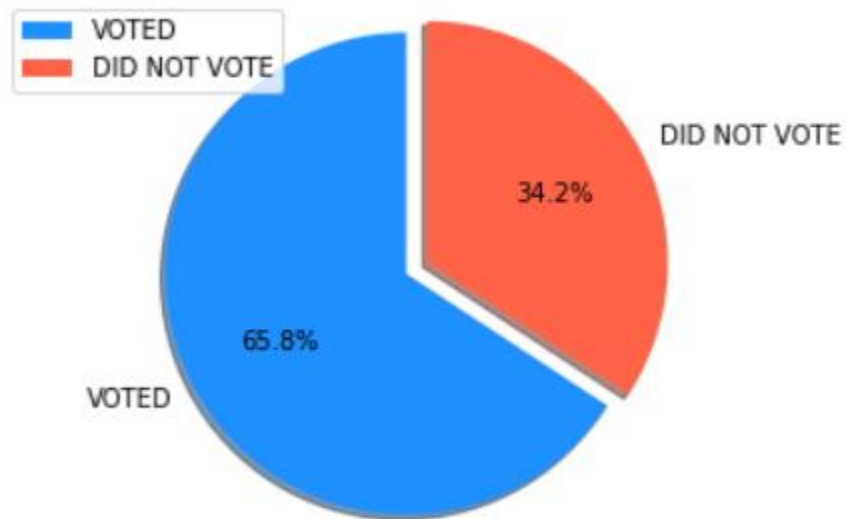

FORMATION OF AAM AADMI PARTY IN 2012

Anna Hazare and Kiran Bedi reformed Team Anna, while Kejriwal and some others split from the erstwhile apolitical movement with the intention of forming what was to become the Aam Aadmi Party.

After failing to press government to pass The Lokpal Bill, 2011, the Team Anna split on issue of formation of political party. Anna Hazare and some others did not want to enter mainstream politics while Arvind Kejriwal led India Against Corruption opined to join politics. Arvind Kejriwal and others finally formed the new Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), on 26 November 2012.

ANALYSIS

PERCENTAGE OF VOTERS IN GREATER KAILASH (2013)

- Total number of registered voters in 2013: 1,43,773
- Total number of people who voted: 94,581
- Total number of people who didn't vote: 49,192

NUMBER OF POLLING BOOTHS WON BY DIFFERENT PARTIES IN GREATER KAILASH (2013)

- Greater Kailash seemed to be a one-sided affair as Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) won 123 out of 156 polling booths in the constituency.
- Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) on the other hand, under-performed, securing only 25 polling stations.
- The Indian National Congress (INC) were reduced to a minimal performance of all time in Greater Kailash winning just 8 polling station.

NUMBER OF VOTES WON BY DIFFERENT PARTIES IN GREATER KAILASH (2013)

- AAP won 42,924 votes and won in Greater Kailash.
- BJP secured the second position, winning 29,897 votes.
- INC were able to win 19,641 votes only.

PERCENTAGE OF VOTES WON BY DIFFERENT PARTIES IN GREATER KAILASH (2013)

TABLE REPRESENTING THE RESULT IN TABULAR FORM

PARTY	PERCENTAGE OF VOTES WON
BJP	31.7
INC	20.8
AAP	45.6
OTHERS	1.9

OUTCOME OF THE ANALYSIS

- The 2013 Delhi legislative elections in Greater Kailash experienced changes in the election results.
- The newcomers, the Aam Aadmi Party were in majority by securing 45.6% of the total vote share in their first ever election campaign.
- On the other hand, BJP were not able to defend and felt to the AAP formed after the strong anti-corruption movement in 2012.
- INC continued with the gradual decrease in their vote share, winning only 21% of the total vote share.

▪ PROBABLE REASON FOR BJP'S DEFEAT:

ANTI-CORRUPTION MOVEMENT (2011-2013)

- The anti-corruption movement led to change in people's mind set and caused great harm to the reputation and performance of some established parties such as BJP, INC, BSP etc.
- The movement greatly contributed to the formation of Aam Aadmi Party in 2012.
- Rallies, protests involved in the campaign were mostly organized in Delhi.
- This gave AAP an upper hand in the Delhi Elections as they followed the same ideology of an anti-corrupt government.

INDIAN GENERAL ELECTIONS

2014

DELHI (GREATER KAILASH)

PRE-ELECTION SITUATION (2009-2014)

AAP were in control at the legislative level after forming alliance with INC. BJP's attempts to win Greater Kailash and other places, failed with the success of anti-corruption movement and the establishment of AAP in 2012.

CASE STUDY: THE 'NAMO' EFFECT (2014)

It was the Lok Sabha elections this time and at the same point of time, Narendra Modi, the chief minister of Gujarat was selected as BJP's candidate for the prime minister position.

Rallies and campaigns were organized all over the country by BJP, making people change their thinking process by publicizing ideas such as 'anti-congress India' etc.

People started believing in the new ideologies brought in by BJP and the increasing support for BJP swept almost every part of the country often called as 'The Nammo Effect'.

ANALYSIS

VOTE PERCENTAGE OF DIFFERENT PARTIES IN GREATER KAILASH IN 2014

- BJP's effective planning and execution of their strategies reflected a positive impact on the general election results.
- In Greater Kailash, BJP won 53% of the total vote share.

- AAP on the other hand, were able to win 28,829 votes in Greater Kailash.
- INC continued their gradual fall in the vote share in the area, winning 17,312 votes only.

OUTCOME OF THE ANALYSIS

- BJP were in majority in Greater Kailash and eventually went on to win the South Delhi Constituency Seat.
 - REASON FOR THE WIN
 - The Namo Effect

DELHI LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY ELECTION

2015

GREATER KAILASH

PRE-ELECTION SITUATION (2013-2015)

BJP were in control of Greater Kailash, South Delhi and majority of the country. AAP on the other hand, were struggling at the legislative level. After forming an alliance with INC to form the government in 2013, now conflicts started to increase, and many other issues made the condition worse.

NON-ACCEPTANCE OF JAN LOKPAL BILL (2014)

AAP's leader Arvind Kejriwal, who defeated the incumbent chief minister Sheila Dikshit, became the 7th chief minister of Delhi. However, on 14 February 2014 (after 49 days of rule), Arvind Kejriwal resigned from his post citing the reason as his government's inability to table the Jan Lokpal Bill in Delhi Assembly for discussion, due to stiff opposition from other political parties in the house.

Delhi remained thereafter under President's Rule for about a year. On 4 November 2014, the Lieutenant Governor of Delhi Najeeb Jung recommended the Union Cabinet for the dissolution of Delhi assembly and conduct fresh elections. On 12 January 2015, the Election Commission of India announced that state assembly elections would be held on 7 February 2015 with results being announced on 10 February 2015.

TABULAR FORM:

PARTY	VOTE PERCENTAGE
BJP	40%
AAP	53.5%
INC	5.7%
OTHERS	0.8%

OUTCOME OF THE ANALYSIS

- AAP won the Greater Kailash for the second time consecutively.
- BJP finished second, securing 40% of the total vote share.
- INC struggled and experienced a decrease in the vote share from 21% in 2013 to just 5.7% in 2015.

➤ PROBABLE REASON FOR AAP'S WIN:

- AAP'S MANIFESTO:

- AAP released its manifesto on 31 January 2015.
- Resolved to legislate the Delhi Jan Lokpal Bill after coming to power.
- Will keep its promise of reducing electricity bills by half.
- Put Delhi's own power station at the pithead and comprehensively solve Delhi's electricity problem in long run.
- Facilitate a phased shift to renewable and alternate sources of energy like Solar Energy.
- Provide Water as a Right. It will provide access to clean drinking water to all of Delhi at an affordable price.

PREDICTIVE ANALYSIS
DELHI LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS
2020
GREATER KAILASH

PRE-ELECTION SITUATION (2015-2020)

AAP are in control at the legislative level in Greater Kailash. BJP on the other hand have the control over Greater Kailash as well as South Delhi District at the parliamentary level.

APPROACH OF DIFERENT POLITICAL PARTIES TOWARDS ELECTIONS IN GREATER KAILASH

BHARATIYA JANATA PARTY

- DESPERATION IN THE PARTY

Not only winning the Greater Kailash constituency is the aim, the saffron party wants to win the upcoming election badly, and for this, the BJP has set a target to win 60 out of total 70 constituencies in Delhi Vidhan Sabha election.

- CONTESTING A FACE-LESS ELECTION

In Delhi, the BJP will contest elections without any chief minister face. Delhi BJP spokesperson Ashok Goel said, "We [BJP] have got the votes from all the section of societies in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections. People will support the BJP for the achievement of the Narendra Modi government and the failure of the AAP at Greater Kailash.

- PARTY WORKERS OPINION SURVEY

The BJP is going to conducted a survey in June 2019. Through this survey, the BJP understood the party workers' point of view on the issues and planned two more such surveys, and the last survey will be conducted in November 2019.

AAM AADMI PARTY

- GATHERING PUBLIC OPINIONS

Since April 2019, Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) MLAs have been holding meetings across their constituencies in order to reach out to the public, get feedback and make a list of projects that need to be completed before the 2020 Delhi Assembly polls.

- EXPECTATIONS OF THE PEOPLE IN GREATER KAILASH

In his constituency, residents demanded a foot-over bridge as the Bus Rapid Transit corridor from Moolchand to Ambedkar Nagar had been dismantled, making the road too wide and too busy for pedestrians to cross.

- EFFECT OF 'IGNORANCE' ON THE UPCOMING RESULTS

AAP did an excellent work in their tenure but such things as alliance with congress, ignoring your party members voice fade the faith of people in you.

- WORK DONE BY AAP WILL CERTAINLY HELP IN 2020

Many efforts like Happiness Curriculum and construction of new classrooms in government schools have received accolades globally. The primary healthcare centres offering free consultations, tests and medicines also received praise from Gro Harlem Brundtland, the former director general of World Health Organisation. Considered to be one of the flagship schemes of the AAP government, 189 of the promised clinics have been set up in Delhi

- AAP SEEK TO SHIFT FOCUS TO THEIR WELFARE-DRIVEN POLICIES

By reducing the power tariff substantially in Delhi just a few months before the Assembly elections, Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal has shown that he is not willing to lose his grip over the 'Development and Welfare' narrative but is determined to derive the maximum political mileage out of it.

INDIAN NATIONAL CONGRESS PARTY

- RECENT IMPROVEMENT IN THE LOK SABHA ELECTION RESULTS MAY HELP

With five of its seven candidates finishing second in the Capital in the Lok Sabha polls, Delhi Congress, senses resurgence. The party -- fighting a prestige battle in the city it ruled for 15 years until 2015 - had been finishing third in election after election since Kejriwal took over as Chief Minister.

- SHEILA DIKSHIT: A HUGE LOSS TO THE PARTY

The Indian National Congress will face some serious problems after the unfortunate death of Mrs. Sheila Dikshit on 20th July 2019. Now a big question arises for INC that who will lead the Delhi Election Campaign in 2020?

IN 2020

PARTY	PERCENTAGE
BJP	14.1
AAP	85.3
INC	0.6

CONCLUSION

- Changes in strategies and execution plans for different parties at the state legislative level, eventually won't affect the election results at Greater Kailash in 2020.
- AAP will be able to secure Greater Kailash successfully in 2020 Delhi Legislative Elections.
